

PRIORITIZING BEHAVIOR

www.cebisva.org

WHY:

Prioritizing behavior means that assessment and intervention will have a focus and that the most significant behavior will be targeted first.

WHO:

Anyone supporting behavior programming for students. When teams work together, priorities are clearer!

TOP TIP:

Consider the context where behaviors occur. Some behaviors are appropriate in some contexts and not in others.

GET STARTED!

- Ask questions!
- Consider context.
- Consider the impact of behavior change.
